

Execution Agreement 'Pensioenabonnement' of Aegon Cappital Valid in 2024

Version 2024.1

CAPITAL

Preface¹

The Execution Agreement contains the arrangements between you as the employer and us as the pension provider. 'We' are Aegon Cappital B.V. (hereinafter 'Aegon Cappital'), Aegon Levensverzekering N.V. (hereinafter 'Aegon Leven'), and ASR Schadeverzekering N.V. (hereinafter 'a.s.r. Schade'). Together we are the pension provider (hereinafter 'we', 'us' and 'pension provider') for the Pension Regulations. The arrangements concern the execution of your pension scheme. The employee/former employee is not a party to the Execution Agreement. Your Execution Agreement with us is made up of two components: this document and the statement of approval which you signed in the proposal. The proposal with the unique proposal number is also referred to in the statement of approval.

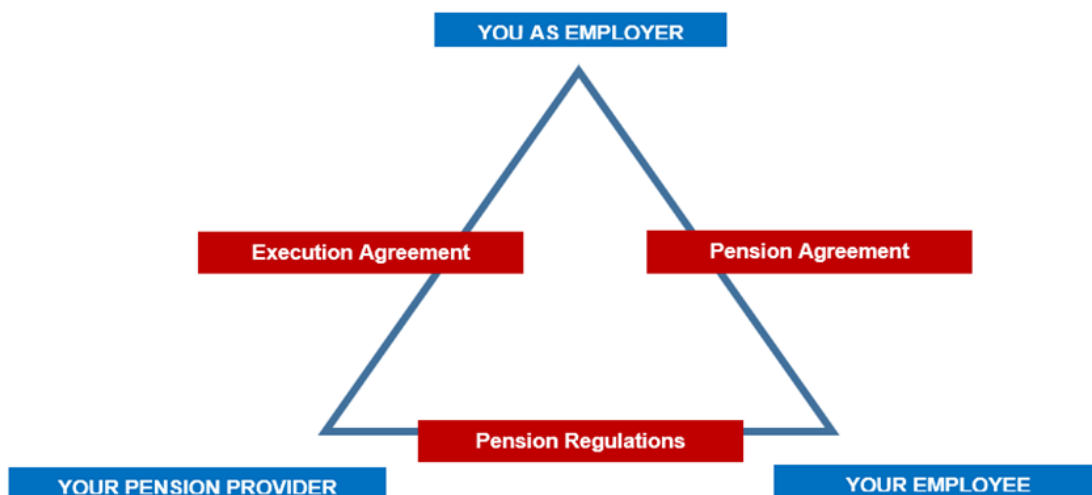

This is a general execution agreement for your pension scheme. It applies to you but also to other companies with the same type of pension scheme.

In this Execution Agreement, we refer to the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement' a number of times. These are an integral part of the Pension Regulations for your employees and your Execution Agreement. They contain the specific figures and arrangements for your pension scheme that are applicable only to you and your employees. We use these figures to calculate the contribution and costs of your pension scheme. You first received these figures with your proposal. We will subsequently adjust them annually and provide them to you and the employees (digitally).

It is useful to have these 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement' at hand when you read the Execution Agreement. Always use the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement' that are applicable to you in the year in question. If you do not have a copy of the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement', please contact us or look on the Aegon Cappital employer portal.

For your pension scheme you conclude a pension agreement with each employee separately. This Pension Agreement is an integral part of the employment agreement. As a pension provider, we will also have a relationship with your employees after their registration. The details of this relationship have been detailed by us in the Pension Regulations Pensioenabonnement (hereinafter the 'Pension Regulations'). These Pension Regulations also lay down the pension scheme.

Your pension scheme will at all times be governed by the current Execution Agreement and Pension Regulations. Unless otherwise stipulated in the current version, the current version also applies after the pension arrangement has been terminated. You can find them on our website www.aegoncappital.nl.

Frequently used terms are explained in the 'Explanation of Terms' annex.

Section 1. Basic assumptions

1.1. The pension providers

Cooperation

Aegon Cappital, Aegon Leven and a.s.r. Schade are jointly the pension provider for your net pension scheme.

Aegon Cappital is the pension provider for the defined contribution scheme for the Investment Pension. Aegon Cappital is also the contact for:

- Aegon Leven as the pension provider for:
 - Pension;
 - Guaranteed Pension;
 - partner's and orphan's pension;
 - ANW shortfall pension;
- a.s.r. Schade as the pension provider for the waiver of contribution in the event of disability.

Aegon Cappital has selected these two insurers because of their favourable rates, their administrative facilities, and their sound financial basis.

Aegon Cappital's board will periodically assess whether the two insurers meet the criteria that are applied.

A single point of contact

Aegon Cappital is the point of contact for Aegon Leven and a.s.r. Schade. This means that we can offer you a comprehensive pension scheme whilst you have a single point of contact for your pension scheme, namely Aegon Cappital.

1.2. Participation in the pension scheme

Participant

A Participant is a person who:

- is an employee with your company; and
- has been offered a pension agreement for this pension scheme by you and has accepted that pension agreement; or
- is no longer an employee, but is still accruing pension entitlements because the participant is entitled to the waiver of contribution on account of disability.

A director/major shareholder or a self-employed person cannot participate in this pension scheme.

You can read more about participation in the pension scheme and your obligations with regard to offering the pension scheme as part of the total package of employment conditions in Section 2.2 'Your obligations' under 'Pension scheme is an integral part of the employment conditions'.

Former participant

A former participant is a person who:

- is an employee or former employee of your company; and
- still has pension entitlements for which no waiver of contribution payment on account of disability applies, and
- for whom you no longer pay any contributions yourself for this pension scheme.

Pension beneficiary

A pension beneficiary is a person who receives a pension.

1.3. Pension entitlements

The pension entitlements that we administer under this Execution Agreement are:

- a defined contribution for Pension;
- a partner's and orphan's pension;
- an ANW shortfall pension.

You can find the conditions that apply to the pension entitlements in this Execution Agreement, the Pension Regulations, and the annexes.

We use the defined contribution for the Investment Pension or the Guaranteed Pension.

More information about the Investment Pension and the Guaranteed Pension can be found in Sections 4 ('Accrual of pension') and 8 ('Death') of the Pension Regulations.

We take out insurance policies for the partner's and orphan's pension and the ANW shortfall pension. More information about these pensions can be found in Section 8 ('Death') of the Pension Regulations.

If the participant becomes disabled, we take over the payment of contributions for the entitlements from you, either in full or in part. We take out insurance policies for this. This is explained Section 9 'Disability' of the Pension Regulations and in the 'Conditions for Disability Insurance' annex.

Pension

The pensions after the personal retirement date of the participant (or former participant) are the retirement pension and a partner's pension in the event of death after the personal retirement date.

Where Pension is capitalised, we therefore mean the retirement pension and the partner's pension in the event of death after the personal retirement date.

Investment Pension

In the case of an Investment Pension, the defined contributions for the participant/former participant are used to invest. The participant/former participant therefore invests for his/her Pension. The Investment Pension will be converted into a Pension with Aegon Leven on the personal retirement date. The amount of the Pension depends among other things on the value of the Investment Pension at the time when the investments are sold, and also on the market interest rate used by the pension providers in setting their rates for the purchase of Pension on the retirement date. The participant/former participant may also choose a different pension provider.

Guaranteed Pension

In the case of a Guaranteed Pension, the participant/former participant can already purchase Pension before his/her retirement date. A Guaranteed Pension is an insurance policy that immediately gives the participant/former participant certainty about the amount of his/her Pension. He/she can 'click' his/her Investment Pension once only or periodically, by using (part of) his/her Investment Pension to purchase a Guaranteed Pension.

Partner's and orphan's pension

These are the pensions that the partner and children receive after the participant's/former participant's death. They comprise a lifelong partner's pension and a temporary orphan's pension. This is only paid out if the participant/former participant dies before his/her personal retirement date.

1.4. Acceptance

We accept the participant for all insurance policies without taking into account his/her health situation. We do however take into account the amount of his/her salary and salary increases.

The pensionable salary taken into account when determining the partner's and orphan's pension may not increase by more than 15% annually. We check the increase against the pensionable salary that we previously accepted.

The exact provisions regarding the pensionable salary are set out in Section 3.3 'Pensionable earnings' of the Pension Regulations.

In some cases we may decide not to accept an employee for the insurance or to make an employee's acceptance dependent on his or her health status. This is explained in Section 6.6 'Acceptance of insured entitlements' and Section 8.6 'ANW shortfall pension' of the Pension Regulations.

Section 2. Obligations

2.1. Our obligations

We administer the pension scheme as described in the Pension Regulations. This means that we perform various activities. Many of these activities are included in the price, for example the activities which we consider necessary as a prudent pension provider. Other services are additional. We invoice these services to you separately, but only if the services are actually used.

An overview of the services and the price of the additional services is given in the 'Aegon Cappital Menu' annex.

The price that we have agreed for administering your pension scheme is stated in the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement'.

Costs for additional services

For the provision of other services than those stated in the 'Aegon Cappital Menu' annex, you pay costs which depend on the type of activities. We will send you a cost estimate in advance. The hourly rate for standard or customised services can be found in the 'Aegon Cappital Menu' annex.

We determine the final costs after receiving your agreement and after the services have been completed. We will send you a separate (digital) invoice for this.

Delivery periods

Changes or updates can be submitted via the employer portal on www.aegoncappital.nl, where you can also find instructions. The portal also contains a schedule showing the deadline for submitting the changes. If you submit them any later, then we will process them a month later.

Repair costs

We provide compensation for the costs that your adviser incurs, on your instructions, as a result of shortcomings in proposals and other documents provided by us pursuant to the Execution Agreement. This concerns shortcomings imputable to us. Compensation will only be paid if you and your adviser meet the conditions in the Repair Costs Scheme, and have followed the procedure described in it. The Repair Costs Scheme can be found on www.aegoncappital.nl.

The amount of compensation is based on your adviser's specification of hours worked. The hourly rate that we compensate is the rate as published by your adviser on its website, with a maximum of € 150.00 exclusive of VAT. We can adjust this maximum annually. We do of course check the specification to see if it is reasonable.

2.2. Your obligations

Pension scheme is an integral part of the employment conditions

You offer your employee the pension scheme as part of the total package of employment conditions. You conclude a pension agreement with your employee. The pension agreement states that the details of the pension scheme have been worked out in the Pension Regulations. Your employee may only accept or refuse the pension scheme if he/she does so together with the other employment conditions. You are obliged to place and maintain the pension entitlements with us.

If your employee has been recognised by the Social Insurance Bank (Sociale Verzekeringsbank, SVB) as a conscientious objector (see www.svb.nl), the employment conditions can be accepted without the pension scheme.

Cooperating to ensure proper administration

We base the cover on the information that you and/or your employee provide to us, or the data provided to us on behalf of you or the employee, for example by the Employee Insurance Agency (UWV).

If you do not provide the information, or if you provide it late or incorrectly, then the pension entitlements of the employee concerned will not be covered (or not fully covered). In that case, the administration of the net pension entitlements will be limited to a level based on the most recent information we received from you that was correct and provided in time. If you have not registered the employee, there will be no cover. Cover will still be provided:

- if we decide to provide cover after all and you provide the correct information and pay the full costs of cover that are due within a period to be agreed; or
- if and in so far as the law or an irreversible court judgment does not permit us to reduce or refuse the cover.

You must also compensate us for loss/harm incurred as a result of failure to submit information that is necessary to provide cover in time for the correct pension entitlements of your employees, or if you do so incorrectly or too late. We are required, for example, to provide a new participant with his/her 'Pension 1' (of the 'Pension 1-2-3') within three months. To this end, we need data from you. The Dutch Authority for the Financial Markets (AFM) may impose a fine for not providing the legally required information in time or for not being able to provide it in time. That fine will then be for your account. We may also need to incur extra administration costs because information has to be entered into our records with retroactive effect.

Provision of incomplete or incorrect data by your employee can have consequences for the pension. This is stated in the Pension Regulations.

Ultimate beneficial owner (UBO)

Among other things, we are obliged to comply with the legislation and regulations in the field of financial supervision, the Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing (Prevention) Act (Wwft), the Financial Supervision Act (Wet op het financieel toezicht), and the sanctions legislation and regulations.

This includes the requirement to determine the ultimate beneficial owner (UBO) and to check the UBO against the sanctions lists. You must inform us as soon as possible if there have been any changes relating to your organisation's UBOs. For example, if your organisation has a new UBO, the details of the existing UBOs change, or if existing UBOs can no longer be considered UBOs.

How to submit information to us

You must provide all information and underlying documents in good time that we need for administering the pension scheme. This does not apply to information that the participant/former participant him/herself must provide, as stated in the instructions on the employer portal.

The initial set of participant information required to organise the administrative records must be supplied by you correctly.

Submission of information and changes/updates once the records have been organised takes place via the Aegon Cappital employer portal. On this portal you can find detailed instructions on how to submit these changes and updates.

You must provide us with the following participant information via the Aegon Cappital employer portal:

- personal details;
- the participant's e-mail address;
- the date of commencement and termination of employment;
- the full-time salary and part-time percentage.

Changes and updates affect the amount of the contribution that must be paid. The instructions on the employer portal contain an overview of the deadlines for submitting changes and updates.

You are requested to observe those dates so that we can process the changes and updates in time, thus allowing you to pay the correct contribution in time.

We are entitled to assume that the information you provide is accurate and complete.

You should pass on to us (by e-mail) other information necessary for administering the pension scheme as soon as you learn of the relevant situation.

The Aegon Cappital employer portal

During our collaboration you have access to the Aegon Cappital employer portal, which allows you to access the pension data of your employees who are participants in the net pension scheme. Changes and updates of participant information can only be submitted via the Aegon Cappital employer portal.

Use of the Aegon Cappital employer portal is subject to certain conditions, namely:

- You will be given a user name and password for access to the Aegon Cappital employer portal. It is expressly prohibited to provide these to third parties who are not affiliated with your company. You can, however, authorise a third party to pass on participant data. See the instructions on www.aegoncappital.nl.
- You are responsible for the Aegon Cappital employer portal being used in accordance with our instructions.
- You are required to put security measures in place regarding use of the Aegon Cappital employer portal.
- You may only process the information that you receive via the Aegon Cappital employer portal for the participant whose personal data it concerns. You are also required to observe confidentiality with regard to all the information you receive via the Aegon Cappital employer portal.
- When you pass on a notification or a request from a participant via the Aegon Cappital portal, you should save the notification or message (you can do so digitally). If we ask for it, you should send it to us.
- You are not permitted to undertake any publicity activities relating to the Aegon Cappital employer portal without our written consent.
- You and we must both inform one another immediately if an error is identified in the information available on or via the Aegon Cappital employer portal.
- You and we will comply with the legislation and regulations regarding the use of personal data, and make every effort to combat the improper use of that data.
- You are liable for any loss/harm we may sustain arising from use of the Aegon Cappital employer portal if this is the result of failure to comply (or to comply fully) with the provisions of this Execution Agreement regarding access, security, confidentiality, and privacy.
- We cannot be held liable for consequential damage, by which we also mean loss of profit, missed savings, and other additional loss/harm.

Section 3. Determining the price

This section explains how we calculate the contributions for your pension scheme.

3.1. Pensionable earnings

The pensionable earnings are an important starting point in determining the contributions. The pensionable earnings are the pensionable salary minus the pension offset. We determine the pensionable earnings monthly on the first day of the month.

Example calculation 1

Pensionable earnings

Let's assume the participant has a full-time annual salary of € 54,000.00 gross (this is his/her pensionable salary plus 8% holiday allowance). And the pension offset is (for example) € 17,500.00.

His/her pensionable earnings are € 54,000.00 - € 17,500.00 = € 36,500.00.

If the pensionable salary becomes less, we will determine the pensionable earnings again. We do this on the date when the pensionable salary becomes less.

3.2. Calculating the defined contribution for Pension

The defined contribution that you have selected is shown in the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement' annex. Here you can also see which actuarial interest rate has been taken into account and which tax regime applies. Your participants can voluntarily make use of the option of paying in additional amounts. The scope for additional contributions is subject to maximums for tax purposes determined by Aegon Capital. Your participants can make calculations in their personal environment on our website www.aegoncappital.nl.

The defined contributions are net. That means that we do not deduct any administration costs or insurance premiums from the defined contribution. The defined contribution and the additional contribution is charged to you and paid by you.

You can calculate a participant's net defined contribution by multiplying his/her pensionable earnings by the percentage corresponding to his/her age. The age we use is the participant's age on the last day of each month.

If the pensionable salary becomes less, we will determine the pensionable earnings again. We do this on the date when the pensionable salary becomes less.

How we determine the defined contribution is shown below.

Example calculation 2

Defined contribution

Let's assume the participant is 51 and his/her pensionable earnings are € 36,500.00. And the percentage of the defined contribution for his/her graduated scale and age is 14.6%.

The defined contribution is € 36,500.00 × 14.6% = € 5,329.00 per year.
The defined contribution is € 5,329.00 ÷ 12 = € 444.08 net per month.

This contribution is exclusive of administration costs and insurance premiums.

The defined contribution is subsequently used for Investment Pension.
More information about the Investment Pension can be found in Sections 4 ('Accrual of pension') and 8 ('Death') of the Pension Regulations. Those sections also tell you about the option that the participant has to 'click' the Investment Pension into the Guaranteed Pension at any time. In the case of a Guaranteed Pension, the amount of part of the Pension is already certain from the moment of purchase. This is because these pensions are insured from that point as an amount in euros.

3.3. Calculating the contribution for a Guaranteed Pension

In the case of a Guaranteed Pension, we use (part of) the Investment Pension to a Pension.
The participant can 'click' his/her Pension once only or periodically, by purchasing a Guaranteed Pension. A Guaranteed Pension provides certainty about the amount of his/her Pension. For this we use the rates table applicable in the year of purchase. This is based on the market conditions in the year of purchase. This means the participant will be affected by better or worse market conditions when he/she retires.

In the case of a Guaranteed Pension, the participant/former participant pays a single premium for the pension benefits he/she receives from the retirement date. That single premium includes an interest rate guarantee premium, a surcharge for transfer of accrued benefits risk insurance, and a surcharge for disbursement costs.

- We charge the interest rate guarantee premium to be able to guarantee that the Pension is paid out after the retirement date for the rest of the participant's life. The interest rate guarantee premium is determined annually in December and then applies from 1 January to 31 December of the following year.
The interest rate guarantee premium for 2024 has been set at 21.79%.
- We charge the surcharge for transfer of accrued benefits risk insurance in order to avoid any additional payment obligation for you as the employer in case of a statutory individual outgoing transfer of accrued benefits.
- We charge the surcharge for disbursements to cover the costs for payment of the pensions.

You can find the applicable percentages in the 'Costs, Rates and Assumptions' annex.

Example calculation 3

Guaranteed Pension

Let's assume the participant is 51 and his/her retirement age is 68.
The value of his/her Investment Pension is € 100,000.00.
He/she wants to transfer € 60,000.00 to Guaranteed Pension.
The price of € 1.00 Guaranteed Pension at his/her age is (for example) € 20.50.

His/her Investment Pension will be € 100,000.00 minus € 60,000.00 = € 40,000.00.
He/she purchases Guaranteed Pension for € 60,000.00 ÷ € 20.50 = € 2,926.83.

This means that from his/her retirement date he/she is entitled to € 2,926.83 Pension per year (gross).
And if he/she dies after his/her retirement date, his/her partner is entitled to 70% of € 2,926.83 = € 2,048.78 per year.

Interest rate guarantee premium

When determining our rates for the Guaranteed Pension, for the purposes of calculating the contribution we assume a return of 3% per year for the full period of payment under the insurance. The actual return can be higher but also lower.

In the case of a higher return, the participant/former participant and pension beneficiary share in it through profit-sharing. You can find more information about profit-sharing in the 'Profit-Sharing Scheme: Guaranteed Pension' annex.

In the case of a lower return, the negative result is for the account of Aegon Leven. The pension benefit is guaranteed at all times. For this the participant pays us a premium, which we refer to as the 'interest rate guarantee premium'. which we refer to as the 'interest rate guarantee premium'.

Costs for individual transfer of accrued benefits of Guaranteed Pension

An individual transfer of accrued benefits of a Guaranteed Pension may result in additional costs. This is because of the statutory rules that apply to a transfer of accrued benefits.

A statutory incoming transfer of accrued benefits can only be used for an Investment Pension. You can find more information about this in Section 4.10 'Transfer of accrued benefits for new participant' of the Pension Regulations.

With a statutory outgoing transfer of accrued benefits of a Guaranteed Pension, we calculate the value of the pension entitlements according to the insurance rate and the rate set by the government. The first outcome is called the commuted value and the second the transfer value. If the commuted value is higher than the transfer value, your former employee will get the transfer value. You will receive the surplus. If the commuted value is lower than the transfer value, you are obliged to make an additional payment to cover the deficit.

You only have to cooperate with a statutory transfer of accrued benefits if the additional payment remains below the statutory threshold. If the additional payment needed to cover the deficit exceeds € 15,000.00 and is also more than 10% of the transfer value, then the obligation for you to cooperate with the transfer of accrued benefits lapses completely.

You are insured against the financial consequences arising from a statutory outgoing transfer of accrued benefits of a Guaranteed Pension.

Under this insurance, any deficits and surpluses on a statutory outgoing transfer of accrued benefits of a Guaranteed Pension are for our account. This also applies if the transfer takes place after termination of the Execution Agreement. With other transfers of accrued benefits, these are for your account.

The insurance is only applicable if you are required to cooperate with the transfer of accrued benefits. You are required to cooperate if:

- a former participant makes use of his or her statutory right to a transfer of accrued benefits; or
- we make use of the right to a transfer of accrued benefits of a small pension.

By concluding this insurance you choose not to cooperate with an outgoing transfer of accrued benefits if you are not legally required to do so. This is the case if the deficit exceeds € 15,000.00 and is also more than 10% of the transfer value. We will then not effect the transfer of accrued benefits, and we will notify you about this. If you subsequently still want us to effect the transfer of accrued benefits, then a deficit on the transfer will be entirely at your expense. So the deficit on the part of the transfer with which you would have been legally required to cooperate will then also be at your expense.

If the statutory obligation to make an additional payment to cover a deficit on a transfer of accrued benefits is abolished, then the premium for this insurance will no longer be due from then on. From that point on, our obligation to take over the financial consequences will lapse, and any contributions already paid will not be refunded.

3.4. Calculating the contribution for the partner's and orphan's pension

The contribution for the partner's and orphan's pension is calculated by multiplying the partner's and orphan's pension by the rate corresponding to the participant's gender and age. We determine the contribution again each month. The age we use is the participant's age on the last day of the month.

The 'Costs, Rates and Assumptions' annex contains the gross rates table for the partner's and orphan's pension. It also explains the basic assumptions that apply to the rates and the costs and surcharges that we charge. 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement' specifies whether, and if so which, differentiation adjustment is applicable to your pension scheme.

The contribution for the partner's and orphan's pension is charged to you and paid by you.

Section 8 'Death' of the Pension Regulations tells you how we determine the amount of the partner's and orphan's pension. In addition to the pensionable earnings, the following are also relevant:

- the percentage for the partner's and orphan's pension;
- the number of years of service that are taken into account, determined precisely in months and days. Years of service in former employment are also taken into account for participants who have transferred the value of pension entitlements accrued with former employers to Aegon Cappital.
- an annual increase (of 2%) for the partner's and orphan's pension that has commenced (if you have opted for this);
- the partner system (defined or undefined partner).

Your choices can be found in the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement'.

Here is an example of how we calculate the monthly risk premium for the partner's and orphan's pension. Example calculation 4

Partner's and orphan's pension

Let's assume the participant is 51.

His/her pensionable earnings are € 36,500.00 and the percentage of partner's pension is 1.16% per year of service.

His/her total number of years of service, determined precisely in months and days, is, for example, 24 years, 6 months and 12 days (24.53226 years).

His/her partner's pension is 24.53226 years × 1.16 × € 36,500.00 = € 10,386.96 gross per year.

Let's assume that the gross rate (for a defined partner's pension that stays level) for a 51-year-old participant is € 34.00 per €10,000.00 entitlement and the contribution for a 52-year-old participant is € 38.00. The example interest rate adjustment is 60.00%.

Let's assume that for the employer in this example, the differentiation adjustment is -0.10.

As long as he/she is 51, the contribution is € 34.00 × (10,386.96 ÷ 10,000.00) × (1 + 0.60) × (1 - 0.10) = € 50.85 per month.

As long as he/she is 52, the contribution is € 38.00 × (10,386.96 ÷ 10,000.00) × (1 + 0.60) × (1 - 0.10) = € 56.84 per month.

The contribution for the orphan's pension as part of the partner's and orphan's pension is calculated in the same way.

Partner system

'Key Data Pensioenabonnement' specifies which partner system is applicable to your pension scheme. We may adjust the partner system if the participant pool increases or decreases. We will inform you in advance about any such adjustment.

With an undefined partner (onbepaald partner) system, you pay contributions for the partner's and orphan's pension for all participants, even if a participant has no partner or children.

With a defined partner (bepaald partner) system, you only pay contributions for the net partner's and orphan's pension for participants who have a partner. You must inform us (via the employer portal) whether the participant has a partner. An orphan's pension is insured for participants who do not have a partner but do have children.

On a risk basis

The contribution for the partner's and orphan's pension is on a risk basis.

'On a risk basis' means that no value is accrued in the insurance. The insurance lapses on retirement. The insurance also lapses if the Execution Agreement is continued on a non-contributory basis after the end date and when the participant leaves your employment, except if the participant is immediately entitled to unemployment benefit (WW) upon leaving employment and has a partner and/or children. In that case, the partner and/or children continue to be entitled to an adjusted partner's and orphan's pension for as long as the right to the unemployment benefit exists. This also applies to a foreign unemployment benefit. You can find more information about this in Section 10 'Termination of your participation in the pension scheme'.

Interest rate adjustment for partner's and orphan's pension

We base our rates for the calculation of the contribution on an actuarial interest rate of 3% per year. However, the actual interest rate on the capital market fluctuates and is not always 3%. We apply the interest rate adjustment in order to correct the contributions so that they reflect the actual interest rate. If the (average) interest rate on the capital market is higher than 3%, the interest rate adjustment involves a rebate. If the average interest rate is lower, the adjustment is a surcharge.

The interest rate adjustment for the partner's and orphan's pension is determined annually and then applies from 1 January to 31 December of the following year. For 2024, the interest rate adjustment has been set at 8.98%.

3.5. Calculating the contribution for the ANW shortfall pension

The ANW shortfall pension is a pension which the participant is free to choose. 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement' specifies whether the ANW shortfall pension is part of your pension scheme.

You pay risk premiums for the ANW shortfall pension. These risk premiums are calculated by multiplying the ANW shortfall pension by the rate corresponding to the participant's age. We determine the contribution again each month. The age we use is the participant's age on the last day of the month. The 'Costs, Rates and Assumptions' annex contains the gross rates table for the ANW shortfall pension. It also explains the basic assumptions that apply to the rates and the costs and surcharges that we charge.

The contribution for the ANW shortfall pension is charged to you and paid by you. You yourself arrange with the participants whether they pay an own contribution. You settle this own contribution against the participant's salary.

Example calculation 5

Risk premium for ANW shortfall pension

Let's assume the participant is 51 and has opted for an ANW shortfall pension.

The ANW shortfall pension is, for example, € 16,000.00 gross per year.

The example contribution per € 10,000.00 for:

- someone aged 51 is € 30.00.
- someone aged 52 is € 33.00.

As long as he/she is 51, the contribution is $16,000.00 \div 10,000.00 \times € 30.00 = € 48.00$ gross per month

As soon as he/she is 52, the contribution is € 52.80 gross per month.

This gross contribution still needs to be adjusted by the 'differentiation adjustment for ANW shortfall pension'. The adjustment that applies to your scheme is shown in the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement'.

On a risk basis

The contribution for the ANW shortfall pension is on a risk basis.

'On a risk basis' means that no value is accrued in the insurance. The insurance lapses on retirement.

The insurance also lapses if the Execution Agreement is continued on a non-contributory basis after the end date and when the participant leaves your employment, except if the participant is immediately entitled to unemployment benefit (WW) upon leaving employment and has a partner and/or children.

In that case, the partner continues to be entitled to the ANW shortfall pension for as long as the right to the unemployment benefit exists. This also applies to a foreign unemployment benefit.

Interest rate adjustment ANW shortfall pension

We base our rates for the calculation of the contribution for the ANW shortfall pension on an actuarial interest rate of 3% per year. However, the actual interest rate on the capital market fluctuates and is not always 3%. We apply the interest rate adjustment in order to correct the contributions so that they reflect the actual interest rate. If the (average) interest rate on the capital market is higher than 3%, the interest rate adjustment involves a rebate. If the average interest rate is lower, the adjustment is a surcharge.

The interest rate adjustment for the ANW shortfall pension is determined annually and then applies from 1 January to 31 December of the following year. For 2024, the interest rate adjustment has been set at 7.89%. The interest rate adjustment has already been accounted for in the gross contribution tables.

3.6. Calculating the premium for the waiver of contribution

The contribution for the waiver of contribution in the event of disability is a percentage of the defined contribution. The level of this percentage is stated in the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement'.

This premium for the waiver of contribution in the event of disability is charged to you and paid by you.

Example calculation 6

Waiver of contribution in the event of occupational disability

Let's assume the participant is 51 and the defined contribution is € 361.96 gross per month and the surcharge for the waiver of contribution is 4.00%.
And the participant's own contribution is € 200.00 gross per month.

The premium for the waiver of contribution is then € 361.96 × 4.00% = € 14.48 per month.

The UWV determines that the participant's occupational disability is 65%.
The percentage of waiver is then 72.5% (see table in the Pension Regulations).

He/she retains the right to the defined contribution of € 361.96 per month.
You only need to pay 27.5% of this (i.e. 100% minus 72.5%) of € 361.96. This is € 99.54.

The own contribution is also reduced to 27.5%, i.e. to € 55.00 per month.
You adjust this yourself in your payroll processing system.

For the insured pensions (the partner's and orphan's pension and the ANW shortfall pension), this premium has already been accounted for in the rates. The 'Costs, Rates and Assumptions' annex explains how that is done.

3.7. Changes in differentiation adjustment

We redetermine the level of the differentiation adjustment each year. We do so on the basis of the situation of our records on 1 October. The new differentiation adjustment then applies from 1 January of the following year.

3.8. Costs

Administration costs

You pay the costs of administering the pension scheme. These are stated in the 'Key Data Pensioenabonnement'.

In return, we carry out the activities described in Section 2.1 'Our obligations'. See also the 'Aegon Cappital Menu' annex.

Investment costs

All costs related to investments for the Investment Pension are for the account of the participant/former participant. Section 4 'Investment costs' of the Pension Regulations gives the exact details of how this works.

Costs in case of group transfer of accrued benefits in accordance with Section 83 Pensions Act

We charge costs to you in case of a group transfer of accrued benefits from a different pension provider to us or vice versa. Those costs comprise:

- the entry and exit costs that the investment fund incurs for entering and exiting an investment fund;
- costs per hour according to the custom rate if the group transfer of accrued benefits deviates from our standard working method.

You can contact us for an indication of the amount of these costs.

Section 4. Payment of contributions

4.1. Contributions and administration costs

You pay the contributions as long as the participant is alive and until the individual participant's personal retirement date at the latest.

Contributions are understood to include single premiums.

The administration costs comprise:

- the one-off initial costs on commencement of the scheme. We can adjust the amount of these one-off initial costs annually.
- a fixed amount per participant. We can adjust the fixed amount annually. You pay the fixed amount per participant per payment term for as long as the participant is employed by you, but until no later than the end date of the Execution Agreement. You also do not need to pay this fixed amount for a participant for whom the contributions have been entirely waived because he/she is disabled;
- and costs for additional services. See the 'Aegon Cappital Menu' annex. We invoice these services to you separately, but only if the services are actually used.

We calculate the contributions and administration costs in euros and you pay them in euros.

For new insurance policies and increases of existing insurance policies that take effect retroactively, you pay contributions all at once.

You will receive a monthly invoice.

4.2. Method of payment

You select the payment method yourself via the Aegon Cappital employer portal. You can opt for European business-to-business direct debit or manual payments based on monthly invoices.

4.3. Payment term

We determine all the contributions and administration costs monthly on the basis of the changes and (updated) information supplied. You pay the contribution and administration costs monthly before the due dates. The sending dates and due dates for the invoices are stated in the instructions on the Aegon Cappital employer portal.

If you have opted for European business-to-business direct debit, we collect the amount two days before the due date. The due date is also stated on the invoice.

You will be reimbursed for contributions and administration costs that you paid for a participant after the date of his/her leaving employment.

If he/she leaves on the 15th of the month, for example, you will be reimbursed for half of the contribution and administration costs for that month.

It is important that you pay the invoices in full and in time. If you pay only part of the invoice amount or if you pay after the due date, then the amount concerned will not be invested in time. Money that cannot be processed because we received it too late will only be invested as of the first working day of the following month, after full payment of the invoice. We will not owe you interest on any such money.

4.4. Payment arrears

We make a demonstrable effort to collect the contributions and administration costs. We will notify you and the participant if any payment arrears make it necessary to terminate the accrual of pension. Termination takes place by creating a paid-up policy.

After a paid-up policy has been created, the partner's and orphan's pension and the ANW shortfall pension are no longer insured. The insurance for the waiver of contribution in the event of disability will then also be terminated.

Creating a paid-up policy also means that no more investments for Investment Pension will be purchased, except in the case of profit-sharing from the W profit-sharing pool. Profit-sharing is explained in Section 5.1 'Profit-sharing on Investment Pension' of the Pension Regulations.

Pursuant to the Pensions Act (Pensioenwet), we may terminate the risk insurance policies in this way from three months after notification. Until that time, the risk covers are maintained. Paid-up policies can be created with retroactive effect no later than five months prior to the date of notification to the participant.

If you do not pay the contributions and administration costs charged to you in full, we will not accept the payment for processing. In such case we will consult with you.

Section 5. Adjustment and cancellation

5.1. Adjustment by us

We perform the administration of the pension scheme on the basis of a subscription.

We may adjust the administration of the net pension scheme. We may make the following adjustments:

- product changes and changes to rates, costs and/or other conditions, such as products chosen under the subscription;
- changes arising from legislation and regulations, court rulings, or an instruction or change of policy on the part of a supervisory authority such as the Dutch Central Bank (DNB) or the Dutch Authority for the Financial Markets (AFM);
- other adjustments to prevent market conditions from jeopardising our continuity and effective operations. We can only do this on the basis of a resolution by the board of Aegon Capital. In doing so, we will take account, in all reasonableness, of your interests and those of the participant/former participant;
- replacement, alteration, or closing one or more investment funds. That also applies to the Profile Indicator, the risk profiles, and the investment profiles. You can find more information about this in Section 4 of the Pension Regulations.

Changes in the standard retirement age may also apply to pension entitlements that have already been accrued.

If we make an adjustment, we will notify you in writing in good time.

You are at all times obliged to ensure that the net pension scheme conforms to this Execution Agreement, including when we make adjustments to the administration and this has consequences for the net pension scheme. You are required to ensure that you gain the consent of your employees and the works council (if there is one) for changes to the pension scheme. If your company employs between 10 and 50 employees, you should inform your employees about the changes (through the employee representative body or a staff meeting). This also applies if the Execution Agreement is amended and the amendments have consequences for the pension scheme. You must do this in good time.

In the event of an amendment, we will set a period within which you adjust your pension scheme. If you fail to do so within that period, we may be required to incur additional costs, which we will then charge on to you.

An adjustment made to the pension scheme applies to the pensions already accrued and to those still to be accrued. However, net pensions already accrued cannot be decreased, unless statutory measures provide otherwise. The nature of the pension scheme will also be unaffected. The value of the Investment Pension may, however, be subject to a decrease due to price fluctuations. The investment risk is for the participant's account.

The pension scheme of a participant to whom we grant a waiver of premium payment on account of disability will not be adjusted. If we grant such a waiver, the pension scheme will remain unaffected. The costs for carrying out the adjustment in our administration system are for our own account.

If you do not agree to the adjustment, you can cancel the Execution Agreement.

5.2. Adjustment by you

If you intend to adjust the pension scheme, you need to notify us in advance. You must do so at least four months before the adjustment is to take effect. We will then assess whether it is possible for the adjustment to be made within the context of the pension arrangement. You pay a once-only amount in adjustment costs. You can contact us for an indication of the amount of these costs.

If your pension scheme changes to such an extent that it is no longer in line with the pension arrangement, we will terminate the Execution Agreement. We will do so on the change date that you have proposed.

You can then consult with us as to whether we wish to conclude a new Execution Agreement for the modified pension scheme. The new Execution Agreement will then be concluded on the conditions and at the rates appropriate for the new agreement. You must of course ensure that you have the consent of the employees and the works council (if there is one) for changes to the pension scheme and the Execution Agreement.

Changes within your organisation

You must also notify us in good time about changes within your organisation, particularly in the following cases:

- you second more than 20% of your employees;
- the legal structure of your organisation changes;
- you are involved in a merger, reorganisation, takeover, demerger, cessation of business activities, or other such changes;
- the number of employees or the total wage bill increases or decreases by 20% or more within a single contract year;
- your place of establishment is no longer in the Netherlands.

We can then make changes to the conditions and rates in the Execution Agreement with you.

We can also terminate the Execution Agreement.

5.3. Term of the Execution Agreement

The commencement date of the Execution Agreement can be found in your signed statement of agreement.

Freedom to cancel

This Agreement is for an indefinite period of time. You have a notice period of two months. For us, the notice period is six months. You can terminate by registered mail or by e-mail. In the case of termination by e-mail, the person authorised to sign should send the message to service@aegoncappital.nl.

We will cancel in writing by registered mail.

After termination, the Execution Agreement will be continued on a non-contributory basis. However, you can also choose another option after termination, namely a new Execution Agreement or group transfer of accrued benefits.

Non-contributory continuation

We create paid-up policies for the current insurance policies and the pension entitlements that have been accrued. For the paid-up insurance policies of the guaranteed pensions, Aegon Leven guarantees the level of pension benefit that has been paid for. Contribution of the defined contribution for the Investment Pension ceases. The investments for the Investment Pension remain applicable in accordance with the provisions of the Execution Agreement.

The insurance policies that have no paid-up value or commuted value will lapse.

Insurance policies that Aegon Leven and a.s.r. Schade are paying out at that time will continue to be paid out in accordance with the provisions of this Execution Agreement.

Aegon Cappital and Aegon Leven guarantee the administrative execution of the paid-up insurance policies. In doing so, Aegon Leven adheres to the provisions of this Execution Agreement. For example, we remain entitled to make adjustments to the execution (see Section 5.1).

New Execution Agreement

Instead of continuing on a non-contributory basis, you can conclude a new Execution Agreement with us. The rates and conditions are agreed at that point.

Group transfer of accrued benefits in accordance with Section 83 Pensions Act

In the event of a group transfer of accrued benefits to a different pension provider:

- the insurance policies that have no paid-up value or commuted value will lapse;
- we will transfer our obligations as pension provider for the pension scheme to the other pension provider;
- the transfer value will be determined and transferred;
- we will charge the costs incurred for the transfer. See Section 3.8 'Costs'.

We will also cooperate with the group transfer of accrued benefits for a certain group of participants/former participants.

The transfer value consists of:

- the value of the investments for the Investment Pension; and
- the reserve of the Guaranteed Pension. The reserve is the net present value of the pension liabilities calculated based on net rate assumptions in respect of which the contribution payment took place plus disbursement costs;
- the value of the interest rate guarantee provided. How we calculate this is stated below.

The surcharge for the interest rate guarantee in the contribution is explained in Section 3.3. By means of this surcharge, the interest rate guarantee premium for the insurance period for the Guaranteed Pension has been funded in full. In the event of a transfer to a different pension provider, the value of the interest rate guarantee for the period after the end date of the insurance will be determined and added to the transfer value.

The value of the interest rate guarantee is equal to a factor expressing the average insurance period multiplied by the current interest rate guarantee premium percentage multiplied by the net reserve of the Guaranteed Pension at the end date of the insurance. You can contact us for information about the factor that applies to you.

The current percentage of the interest rate guarantee premium at the end date of the insurance is determined on the basis of the then applicable market conditions. We do this in the same way as we do immediately preceding the end of the insurance.

Section 6. Final provisions

6.1. Formal provisions

- The Execution Agreement and the Pension Regulations comply with the applicable legislation and regulations and with our own policy. We accept responsibility and liability for this.
- We carry out all processes in an appropriate manner as regards quality and we ensure that the necessary expertise is available.
- In performing this Execution Agreement, we comply with all relevant legislation and regulations. The Execution Agreement is subject solely to the provisions of Dutch law.
- The Execution Agreement and each insurance policy are an insurance agreement within the meaning of Section 925 of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code (BW). The relevant provisions of Title 17 of Book 7 of the Dutch Civil Code apply, unless the Pensions Act provides otherwise.
- Both you and we can cause loss/harm by not complying with the Execution Agreement, or by not complying fully. If this failure to comply (or failure to comply fully) is imputable, the party that sustains loss/harm can claim compensation for that loss/harm from the other party. A claim is only possible after written notice of default has been issued. This is because there is then still the opportunity to limit the loss/harm as far as possible.
- Fraud and our loss of trust in you (i.e. your integrity) are reasons for us to terminate the Execution Agreement with immediate effect. We can also do so if you or the ultimate beneficial owner (UBO) is included on a sanctions list or fails to comply with (internal) policy rules, or if you do not properly cooperate with the administration of the pension scheme.
- Aegon Cappital has opted to collaborate with Aegon Leven and a.s.r. Schade on account of their professionalism, administrative facilities and sound financial basis. Aegon Cappital's board annually assesses whether these insurers properly comply with the arrangements made. In the case of a negative assessment, Aegon Cappital will make every effort to enforce compliance with the arrangements.

6.2. Protection of personal data

We process all personal data that you provide to us in accordance with the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Code of Conduct for the Processing of Personal Data by Insurers (see www.verzekeraars.nl).

How we handle your data is explained in our privacy statement, which you can find on our website: www.aegoncappital.nl/privacy-statement.

Please contact us if you believe that we are not handling your data properly.

6.3. Restriction of the right to a pension benefit

If the death of the participant/former participant or pension beneficiary is disadvantageous to us and one of the following situations occurs, the obligation to pay out pensions will be limited to a maximum of the commuted value of the pension insurance. We will use the commuted value applying one day prior to the death of the participant. However, if the liability arising from the obligation to pay out pensions is lower than the commuted value, we will base the payment on that liability.

The participant/former participant or pension beneficiary dies as a result of war or armed combat, unless a state of war is concerned as described in Section 6.4 'War risk'.

We do not limit the right to pension benefit if the death of the participant/former participant or pension beneficiary has been caused intentionally by you alone or by you as co-perpetrator. However, we will then recover the pension benefits from you. We will also do so if the participant/former participant has become disabled as a result of intent on your part, either alone or as co-perpetrator.

Payment of pension benefit under the pension insurance is also limited if it is the result of an event that has been designated as terrorism by the Dutch Terrorism Risk Reinsurance Company (Nederlandse Herverzekeringsmaatschappij voor Terrorismeschaden N.V., NHT). Like most other Dutch insurers, we are affiliated with the NHT.

In the event of loss/harm as a result of an act of terrorism, the NHT's Terrorism Cover Clauses Sheet (Clausuleblad terrorismedekking) and the Settlement of Claims Protocol (Protocol afwikkeling claims) will apply in full. These can be found on www.terrorismeverzeker.nl. You can also ask us for a copy of the text.

In the event of a terrorist attack, the NHT will provide each insurer in the Netherlands, including us, with an amount. We will increase that amount by the contribution reserve which we are required to hold for the insurance policies pursuant to the Financial Supervision Act (Wet op het financieel toezicht).

We will then pay all benefits resulting from a terrorist attack from that amount together with the reserve. In that case, these payments will replace the insured pension benefits. The total benefit will under no circumstances exceed the amount of payment stated in the policy schedule for the pension insurance.

As soon as the limited payment has been made, the pension insurance will cease.

With respect to the insurance policies administered by a.s.r. Schade, the exclusions in the 'General Conditions' and the 'Conditions for Disability Insurance' take precedence over the provisions of this subsection.

6.4. War risk

A number of restrictions apply in the Netherlands during a state of war. It does not make any difference whether or not a participant/former participant or pension beneficiary is in the armed forces. We establish when a state of war begins and ends, unless the Dutch Central Bank (DNB) does so. During a state of war:

- the insured amounts are reduced by 10%;
- the paid-up values are reduced by the amount by which the insured amounts have been reduced;
- the commuted values and transfer values are reduced in the same proportion as the paid-up values.

These reductions do not apply if the participant/former participant or pension beneficiary did not remain in the Netherlands during the entire state of war, but was in one or more countries not at war during this period and no acts of war took place there. The participant/former participant or pension beneficiary must demonstrate that this applies to him or her. He or she must do so within six months after the end of the state of war has been established, but by no later than the point when a pension benefit becomes claimable, or when a paid-up policy is created or there is a transfer of accrued benefits.

After the end of the state of war has been established, we will calculate whether the total amount of the restrictions exceeds the amount of the additional mortality losses due to the state of war. If this is the case, we will arrange the following, no later than nine months after the end of the year of war in which the state of war ended:

- any rebates will be reversed, either fully or partially;
- any previous rebates imposed will be paid out, either fully or partially;
- any rebates imposed for the future will lapse, either fully or partially.

The Minister of Finance may oblige us to apply other restrictions. The Minister can do so if the Financial Transactions (Emergencies) Act (Noodwet financiesel verkeer) applies. In that case, the restrictions in this subsection will lapse.

With respect to the insurance policies administered by a.s.r. Schade, the provisions regarding war in the 'General Conditions' and the 'Conditions for Disability Insurance' take precedence over the provisions of this subsection.

Annex Profit-Sharing Scheme: Guaranteed Pension

The profit-sharing scheme is based on surplus interest.

To calculate the surplus interest, we assume that we invest the reserved amount for Guaranteed Pension in loans. The reserved amount is the amount that we must have in order to be able to pay out the purchased Pension in the future.

In making the calculation, we start from all the pension schemes together that we insure in accordance with the Guaranteed Pension.

At the end of the calendar year we extrapolate the amount reserved to the beginning of the calendar year, applying an interest rate of 3%. We already take account in our rate that we will achieve a 3% return.

That is why we first apply an interest rate of 3% to extrapolate. We repeat this each calendar year.

Each calendar year the amount extrapolated increases compared with the previous calendar year.

With this increase, we do as if we invested it in loans at the beginning of the calendar year.

The loans are notional. We therefore look at what the return would be if we had these loans.

These are loans with a 10-year term which are not repaid during the first five years and are then subsequently repaid for 20% per year. The repaid amount is then invested again in notional loans.

The interest on the loans is referred to as the u-yield (u-rendement). The u-yield is the return of bonds issued by the State of the Netherlands. These meet a number of requirements. The Centre for Insurance Statistics (CVS) of the Dutch Association of Insurers (Verbond van Verzekeraars) calculates the u-yield each month. You can find the u-yield at www.verzekeraars.nl.

The average interest rate we achieve with the u-yield is recalculated to find a percentage. To do this we take the amount that the u-yield has produced in the calendar year. This amount is then divided by the amounts reserved at the end of the calendar year.

From this percentage we subsequently deduct the 3% interest which we had already taken into account in our rate. The result of this arithmetical calculation is the surplus interest.

On 1 January of each year we make 90% of the surplus interest available for profit-sharing. Profit-sharing is used to increase pensions. Such an increase is referred to as a supplement.

Section 5.2 'Supplements on Guaranteed Pension' of the Pension Regulations explains which pensions receive this supplement.

If the supplement would lead to an increase of less than 0.5%, we do not grant a supplement.

The supplement plus interest will then be deferred to a subsequent year and added to the supplement for that year.

Calculating the surplus interest may result in a negative outcome. If that is the case, the surplus interest is set at zero.

Whether or not surplus interest is involved is never certain. That is why the supplement is conditional.

Any increase and positive expectations for the coming years do not automatically entitle you to increases in the future.
